It is a wonderful Catholic tradition to request a Mass Intention for loved ones; living or deceased. In fact, asking for Mass intention for the deceased is not only Catholic tradition, it is biblical (2 Maccabees 12: 38-46).

Mass intention is also a wonderful gift for any special occasion: birthday, anniversary, in thanksgiving for a prayer answered, etc. Mass intention donations are $10 each. Please call the parish office to schedule a Mass Intention.

Fr. Emerson Rodriguez Delgado

God or Mammon: Who Holds Your Heart?

Howdy my dear friends! Every day, our choices quietly reveal what truly matters to us. From how we spend our time to how we use our resources, each decision reflects our deepest priorities. But in a culture hypnotized by the allure of material success—where status and possessions often define worth—an uncomfortable question arises: Who—or what—are we truly serving? Is it God, or is it... mammon? (Spoiler: “mammon” is not a fancy Italian dessert.)

Now, don't get me wrong—money is necessary. It pays the bills, buys groceries, and even support our ministries. But here's the real challenge: when does money stop being a helpful resource and start becoming a master—dictating our identity, shaping our priorities, and even redefining our relationships?

Jesus addressed this issue head-on: “No one can serve two masters... You cannot serve both God and mammon” (Lk 16:13). And no, “mammon” isn't just a Bible word for cash. It refers to the seductive power of wealth – the pull it has on our hearts and minds.

The deeper question is whether we allow money to control us. Does it shape our trust, our love, and our sense of self?

Here's a fascinating twist: the word “mammon” shares linguistic roots with terms like “faithful,” “entrust,” and “true.” In Hebrew and Aramaic, it essentially means “that in which one places trust” (stemming from amen). This connection gets to the heart of the issue: it's not just about money itself, it's about misplaced trust and misplaced love.

Trust sits at the core of our faith and our relationships. To trust is to embrace vulnerability, to rely on someone beyond ourselves. Even worship is an act of trust: trusting in God's promises and in the community of believers who journey with us in mission.

Look around, and you will see two contrasting ways people relate to money. For some, it's a tool to create good in the world—a resource to help others and live with purpose. For others, it's an endless pursuit of more: more income, more possessions, more status. But where's the line between healthy ambition and unhealthy obsession?

So, how do we break free from the grip of mammon? Jesus offers a radical, countercultural way forward: everything we have is a gift from God, entrusted to us for His purposes. Detachment is key. We're called to use money, not worship it. Generosity is the antidote to greed, and gratitude shifts how we see the resources around us. Suddenly, it's not about “What can I get?” but “What can I give?” When we give freely, we reflect the heart of God—the ultimate giver.

Remember Oskar Schindler in the powerful movie Schindler's List. In the end, as he looks at his possessions, he breaks down in tears, realizing that every dollar he selfishly kept for himself could have been used to save another life. His story is a poignant reminder that true wealth is not measured by what we hoard, but by what we give away.

This is the heart of Christian teaching: generosity, justice, and stewardship. It's about using money as a means to love and serve – not as a measure of personal success.

Imagine the freedom of living this way—seeing money as something to hoard or idolize, but as a tool to serve God's purposes. What could that look like in your life? It might mean donating to someone in need, supporting a ministry, or simply being intentional about how you steward your resources. Each small act of generosity builds treasures in heaven—treasures that will never fade.

Jesus reminds us in Matthew 6:19-20: “Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moths and rust destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven... For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.”

So today, ask yourself: who—or what—are you serving? Because when the dust settles, only the treasures built on faith, love, and generosity will stand the test of time. Choose wisely. After all, the legacy you build today echoes into eternity. What will your legacy be?

Our Visiting Priest this Weekend: Fr. Alan Bower

Please welcome Fr. Bower, who will speak at all the Masses on behalf of Cross Catholic Outreach, which was founded to forge a stronger and more supportive link between parishes in America and the priests and nuns serving the poor in the Caribbean, Africa, Southeast Asia, and Central and South America. Please be generous in your response to Fr. Bower's appeal. Brochures will be provided if you wish to support this worthy Catholic ministry.

Important Dates Ahead

- Fr. Emerson is out of town from Sept. 19th–24th
- Parish Picnic on Sunday, Oct. 5th at Conestee Park
- Ministry Fair will be on Saturday, Oct. 18th & Sunday, Oct. 19th in the School Gymnasium

PRAY FOR OUR MILITARY

The men and women who serve in the armed forces do so with a sacrificial love for our country and the world. Lifting them up in prayer to our Lord must be our humble, and yet great support for them.

Lord, may your love encircle our military as they work across the world to install justice and peace for all. And be their hope through the difficulties and stress they face each day.

Safety Committee Update

Dear Parishioners,

As part of our ongoing commitment to ensuring the safety and security of our community during Mass, we are implementing a new safety protocol effective Saturday, October 4, 2025.

Beginning on October 4th, all exterior doors will be locked 10 minutes after the start of each Mass. Clear signage will be posted on all doors, directing late arrivals to a designated entrance. An usher will be stationed at this entrance to facilitate entry. Please note that all doors will remain available for exit at any time during the service.

This measure is being introduced to enhance the safety of our congregation while maintaining a welcoming environment for worship. We appreciate your understanding and cooperation as we implement this important change.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact the parish office.

Sincerely,

Rick Floyd

NEWS FROM OUR SCHOOL

There is so much joy and creativity happening in our classrooms! In art, our K5 and 1st grade students have been busy creating beautiful self-portraits, while our K3 students are exploring the wonder of God's creation by learning about trees and even going on a nature walk to collect treasures from outdoors.

We are also blessed to welcome a new face to our school community: Sr. Virgincita Seviles, who has joined us as our Religion teacher. Please keep her in your prayers and give her a warm welcome!

To continue supporting the creativity of our young artists, we are in need of a few art supplies. If you feel called to help, please scan the QR codes below to view our wishlist. Every contribution makes a difference, and we are so grateful for your continued support of our students and school.
