It is a wonderful Catholic tradition to request a Mass Intention for loved ones; living or deceased. In fact, asking for Mass intention for the deceased is not only Catholic tradition, it is biblical (2 Maccabees 12: 38-46).

Mass intention is also a wonderful gift for any special occasion: birthday, anniversary, in thanksgiving for a prayer answered, etc. Mass intention donations are $10 each. Please call the parish office to schedule a Mass Intention.

Fr. Emerson Rodriguez Delgado

The Apocalypse Within: Loss, Hope, and Transformation

What if the end of the world isn't the loud or dramatic, Hollywood-style spectacle we imagine? No asteroids crashing into Earth. No alien invasions riding comets like 3I/ATLAS. Instead, what if the end is already here - quiet and insidious - unfolding unnoticed in the cracks of our daily lives? Through the losses and crises that shatter our illusions of control, we're left asking, What now? Where do I even go from here?

We live in a time of dizzying technological progress. AI algorithms predict our needs and desires with unsettling precision. Robots that mimic human movements. Space exploration. Deepfake technology blurs the line between truth and deception. On the surface, it's breathtaking. Beneath the glimmering surface, the cracks show: climate change accelerates, suicide rates rise, mental health struggles surge, and relationships fracture. But it's worth asking: Are we truly progressing? The deeper questions of human existence - purpose, virtue, hope - remain unanswered. Is this the progress we longed for? Or if so, progress toward what, exactly?

In today's Gospel, Jesus' apocalyptic imagery feels strikingly relevant. He speaks of wars, famines, earthquakes, destruction on a cosmic scale (Lk 25:5-19). But these aren't just distant disasters. They mirror the personal crises that shake our worlds: a financial collapse, a devastating breakup, a life-changing diagnosis. Such moments strip away our illusions of control. But in losing control, we're invited to uncover what truly matters.

The word "apocalypse" means "to uncover" or "to reveal." It reminds us that even in chaos, something greater is unveiled. As Richard Bauckham puts it "Apocalypse is not merely a disclosure of heavenly mysteries for the sake of intellectual curiosity. It is a disclosure which is intended to shape the understanding and inspire the faithfulness of God's people in the midst of very earthly circumstances." Jesus' apocalyptic imagery isn't meant to terrify - it's meant to wake us up. It exposes the fragile foundations we build our lives upon - wealth, status, power. These "small worlds" inevitably crumble. But in their place, Jesus calls us to something greater - a life anchored in God's unshakable hope. A hope that endures beyond loss and chaos, and even the end of all we know.

For the Jewish people, the destruction of the Temple was the end of the world they knew. Luke's Gospel, written after this devastating event, reminds us that loss can lead to transformation. Jesus assures his disciples: "By your perseverance, you will secure your lives" (Lk 21:19). In the same way, our own apocalyptic moments, our losses and crises - are not the end. They are the prelude to something new. When everything crumbles, we are invited to ask not why is this happening? but how can I endure? How can I bear witness to God's love and faithfulness, even in the valley of the shadow of death?

As we approach the end of the liturgical year, today's Gospel shifts our focus to the ultimate horizon - the Second Coming of Christ. This is not a message of fear or doom. It's a message of profound hope and trust.

Will we trust enough to let go of what we cannot keep? Will we open our eyes to see the life God is calling forth, even within the chaos? As the world trembles with uncertainty and our lives quake with loss, remember: the end is not the end. It is an unveiling - a call to trust the God who transforms death into life, chaos into creation, and endings into beginnings. The question is not whether God's kingdom is near - it is whether we have the courage to see it and step into it.

PRAY FOR OUR MILITARY

The men and women who serve in the armed forces do so with a sacrificial love for our country and the world. Lifting them up in prayer to our Lord must be our humble, and yet great support for them.

Lord, may your love encircle our military as they work across the world to install justice and peace for all. And be their hope through the difficulties and stress they face each day.

NEWS FROM OUR SCHOOL

Building Faith, Community, and a Bright Future Together

The heart of a Catholic school beats with the mission of the Church – to share the love of Christ and form disciples who live the Gospel each day. At St. Anthony of Padua Catholic School, our Catholic identity isn't just part of what we do – it's who we are. It shapes our curriculum, community life, and pastoral care, nurturing our students to grow in wisdom, faith, and compassion.

As the Church reminds us, formation is about transforming and shaping the heart in the image of Christ (Ratio Fundamentalis, 89). Every lesson, act of service, and moment of prayer helps our students and families encounter God's love and bring that love to the world.

Through this shared mission, our school becomes more than a place of learning – it becomes a community of faith, where spiritual growth and academic excellence go hand in hand. Together, we prepare our children to think deeply, act justly, and live joyfully as disciples of Jesus.

Join Us in Building Community Through Generosity

Thanksgiving Turkey Drive

Help bring hope and joy to families in need this holiday season!

Bring a frozen turkey to weekend Mass on November 22–23, or drop it off at the school office during the week of November 17–21.

Your kindness will bless school families who could use a little extra support for their Thanksgiving meal – a true reflection of Christ's love in action.

Giving Tuesday Campaign (November 17–December 2)

Thanks to a generous donor, our cafeteria equipment needs have been fully met! Now, we're turning our focus to two exciting initiatives that will enhance our students' experience:

Initiative	Total Goal	Funds Raised	Remaining	Allocation (2025–26 / 2026–27)
Playground Upgrade	$95,000	$50,000	$45,000

STEM Curriculum Enhancement

$25,000	$0	$25,000
			$10,000 – Science curriculum (2025–26)
			$15,000 – New math program & teacher training (2026–27)

Scan the QR code below to make a secure contribution and help bring these projects to life, fostering the holistic formation at the heart of our Catholic mission.

Thank you for your ongoing support and for living out our Catholic values of charity and community. Together, we're forming young hearts and minds in the light of Christ!
