Mass intention is also a wonderful gift for any special occasion: birthday, anniversary, in thanksgiving for a prayer answered, etc. Mass intention donations are $10 each. Please call the parish office to schedule a Mass Intention.

FROM THE DESK OF OUR PASTORAL ADMINISTRATOR

Fr. Emerson Rodriguez Delgado

Sacred in the Stress: Discovering Holiness in Family Struggle

Holy Family Sunday invites us, dear friends, to reimagine Christmas—not as a distant, soft, or sentimental celebration, but as grounded in the deeply human experience of family life. It's a reminder that the heart of the Christmas story is rooted in the messy, beautiful chaos of real relationships, where struggles and joys are inextricably intertwined. From Shakespeare to Dostoevsky, literature has long portrayed the family as the stage for life's greatest dramas: love and conflict, sacrifice and betrayal, forgiveness and healing. On this Feast of the Holy Family, we're challenged to look beyond serene, stained-glass images of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph and wrestle with profound questions: What does it truly mean to be a family? What makes a family "holy"? And where does my own messy, complicated, modern family fit into all of this?

The first reading from Sirach offers an idealized vision of family life—respectful, orderly, and harmonious. But let's be honest: most families today don't resemble that picture. Families today are diverse and complex:

- Single parents balancing everything on their own
- Same-sex parents raising children with love
- Foster or adoptive families creating new bonds
- Blended families navigating stepparents and stepsiblings
- Grandparents stepping in to raise grandchildren
- Families spread across different cultures, countries, or beliefs

These realities raise difficult questions:

- Should we honor parents who've caused deep hurt?
- What does respect look like when there's been abuse or abandonment?
- Can a family that's broken or non-traditional still be a "domestic church"?

The idea of the family as the "domestic church"—the first place where faith is shared and lived—can feel out of reach for many. What happens when: Not everyone in the family believes in God? Some are Catholic, some are not, and others are "spiritual but not religious"? Pain and dysfunction drown out peace and prayer?

For many, the word "family" doesn't evoke warmth but instead brings memories of hurt, instability, or fear. In today's world, family life feels stretched thin by countless challenges:

- Technology that isolates us rather than bringing us together (think of family dinners replaced by everyone scrolling in silence).
- Parents overwhelmed by the demands of work, bills, and endless to-do lists.
- Hidden struggles such as divorce, mental illness, addiction, or financial strain.

How, then, can we strive for holiness in our families when perfection feels impossible?

The Holy Family shows us that holiness isn't about flawlessness—it's about presence. Their life was far from ideal:

- Jesus was born in a messy, noisy stable.
- The family fled to Egypt as refugees, escaping Herod's violence.
- By the time Jesus reached adulthood, Joseph was likely gone, leaving Mary a widow and Jesus fatherless.
- In the Gospel, we see a deeply human moment when Mary and Joseph frantically search for 12-year-old Jesus, only to find him calmly teaching in the temple. You can almost hear Mary thinking, "Because you're TWELVE, that's why we were worried!"

Even the Holy Family experienced struggles, misunderstandings, and moments of fear. Yet they show us that what makes a family holy is not perfection but love, trust, and presence in the midst of life's challenges.

Pope Francis reminds us in Amoris Laetitia that parents are their children's first teachers of the faith—not through perfect behavior but through small, daily acts of love. A family becomes a "domestic church" when: God's love is made visible in everyday gestures. People are willing to say, "I'm sorry" and "I forgive you." There's room for struggle, imperfection, and growth.

Holiness isn't found in having a picture-perfect home or Instagram-worthy moments. It's found in the small, unremarkable acts of love that happen every day:

- A parent apologizing after losing their temper.
- A teenager helping out without rolling their eyes (just this once!).
- Siblings reconciling after a fight.
- A tired spouse quietly sacrificing for the good of the family.

Wherever love, forgiveness, and patience exist, Christ is present. The Christmas story reminds us that if Jesus can transform a messy stable into a temple of God, then he can transform our homes too—whether they are cluttered or clean, peaceful or tense, traditional or unconventional.

What matters isn't the structure of the family but the presence of Christ's love within it.

As we celebrate the Feast of the Holy Family, we're invited to follow their example: to love through uncertainty, to forgive in the midst of misunderstanding, and to trust in God even in the messiness of life.

Let us never forget: God is with us—right in the middle of our messy, imperfect, and beautiful family lives.

PRAY FOR OUR MILITARY

The men and women who serve in the armed forces do so with a sacrificial love for our country and the world. Lifting them up in prayer to our Lord must be our humble, and yet great support for them.

Lord, may your love encircle our military as they work across the world to install justice and peace for all. And be their hope through the difficulties and stress they face each day.

Service

Thank You – Church Grounds Work Day

Thank you to all the wonderful parishioners who came out this past Tuesday to help prepare our church grounds for Christmas. Your time, energy, and generosity made a beautiful difference, ensuring our parish looks welcoming and well cared for as we celebrate the birth of Christ. We are so grateful for your willingness to serve, your joyful spirit, and the sense of community you brought to the day. Acts of service like this truly reflect the love of Christ alive in our parish. Thank you for helping make St. Anthony of Padua a place of beauty, hospitality, and faith this Christmas season!

Thank You to Our Religious Education Children

A heartfelt thank you to all of our Religious Education children who sang so beautifully at the 4:00 PM Christmas Eve Mass. Your joyful voices lifted our hearts and helped make our celebration of the Nativity even more meaningful.

We extend our sincere gratitude to Larry McCullough, Director of Music, for directing and organizing the children, and to Debra, Director of Religious Education, for her guidance, coordination, and continued support of our young people.

Thank you all for sharing your gifts, faith, and Christmas joy with our parish community. We are so proud of you and grateful for the light you bring to our worship. May God bless you and your families this Christmas season!

Support The MICA Program

The MICA Program serves the financially vulnerable in our community by providing access to low-cost loans and helping our neighbors avoid predatory lenders. Thanks to your generosity, we have nearly doubled the number of loans made in 2025 compared to last year.

To continue meeting this growing need, we ask for your continued financial support. The MICA Program is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization, and all donations are tax-deductible.

Donations may be made online through our website or by a check made out to the MICA Program and mailed to the St. Anthony's office with Attention - MICA Program.
